

Time and Things

Because of time, things run out and other things wear out. It is also true that because of time, things renew and rejuvenate. It seems that asymmetrical time creates an ultimate symmetry.