

“Random”

Randomizing some collection of things is not the same as making it look random. It must have no discernible pattern. Creating a non-random pattern which appears random often requires care and patience.