

CHANGING THE WORLD

Be thankful that journalists believe it's their mission to change the world. Wouldn't you want people with their powerful intellects and finely-tuned sense of justice and morality deciding what facts to report and how?

