

Perfect Freedom

Freedom can never be perfect for humans; this would imply infinite options, unconstrained by context or time. Only God can have infinite options. Ironically, one of these options must be Self-limitation.