

Optimism Cowardly

Still trying your best each moment when people and forces go against you. Performing, as Ernest Hemingway would say, with "grace under pressure." Seeking out challenges with an unwavering faith that all will work out. Personally and for loved ones, unflinchingly looking life's grim realities in the face. All, clearly cowardly.

Better to chill and just have a beer.