

Censorship

No rationally thinking person believes we should never censor, so here are the big questions:

1. Do we err on the side of safety or of freedom of speech?

2. How do we decide when we are in the “error zone”?