

What am I?

I give you information you need. Most of the time, you wish there were another way to get it. Other times I make you feel good because you've worked hard to experience me, and I'm the evidence you're better off than before. I represent a significant part of the great contradiction. I'm thus what helps give meaning to all those happy and fulfilling moments in your life. I'm physical, emotional, psychological, and spiritual.

