

Political Grandpa

A daughter, whose fond memories center around experiences with her loving and gentle grandfather, arrives home after being away for years.

[daughter excitedly embracing parents]

Daughter: It's so good to be home!

Mother: Grandpa will be so pleased to see you. He doesn't know you were planning on returning. I missed you so.

Father: Me too.

[sudden awkward moment of embarrassment]

Daughter: What's that pounding upstairs?... and the words? It's the most explicitly vile and perverse language I've ever heard!

Father: It's Grandpa at his computer. He must be reading his political sites again.
