

“No live organism can continue for long to exist under conditions of absolute reality; even larks and katydids are supposed, by some, to dream.”

Shirley Jackson

“The Haunting of Hill House”