

HATE vs. GRATITUDE

A given emotional state must affect our total body state (e.g. with blood pressure, pulse rate, hormonal states).

What does research say about a momentary emotional state's relationship to bodily health. Where do hatred vs. gratitude land on a health continuum?

What do our intuitions tell us?