

Humor

Why do we want it and need it? It makes us laugh. Why do we need to laugh? Is it maybe because our lives are full of fears, frustrations, defeats, and tragedies? Why do many comedians admit to being in depression and despair?

Is the dark side of life its default home?