

How would your life be different after having made 692 consecutive free throws? Would your strides gain steam? Would your oatmeal taste better? Would you sleep more soundly? Would your jokes be funnier? Would your thinking be more incisive?

Not necessarily any of these things, but the personal satisfaction is forever.

– Brian