

God and Helicopters

The Christian God is not a helicopter parent. He does not expect you to come to Him for just anything. Just like any parent, He expects His children to figure out and deal with some things by themselves. He wants us to be and become grownups who know their limitations. Once we know them, He is there to help us go beyond them.