

Cowboy Aesthetics

It's the most glorious work you can do, that nobody ever sees. Takes every inch of 'ya. You're gonna risk your life, your horse's life. And nobody knows if you won, or if you lost. It's art. Without an audience. Til the day you die. And then after you're dead, you don't have a audience either. You just...you're just gone. Now you gotta want this life. You've got to want it all the way to your bones. And if you don't, it can be absolute hell on earth.

Yellowstone

S4 E5

"Under a Blanket of Red"