

Long ago, before sentient humans lived and thought, there was no money. Although there were signs which plants and animals used to interact with their environments, there were no symbols.