

Hell = Separation

Everything is permitted; you are separated from security. Everything is a lie; you are separated from truth and unable to trust. There can no meaningful relationships with another or with a higher power.