

Reverence for Life?

Famous humanitarian Albert Schweitzer is associated with this sentiment, and German thinker Martin Heidegger's philosophy implies that all life shares in the same overall significance. Is this true for the semi-alive?