

Creative Intuitive

WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE?

Creative people perceive relationships not only between like objects and ideas but between unlike ones, and one of these perceptions can be considered a “creation.” If intuition is really qualitatively different from creativity, though, it must be by nature an impulse which comes out of nowhere, unrelated or unclearly related to whatever perceptions have been experienced before. Otherwise, it’s just a difference of degree.