

A Musical Speculation

Because it can evoke a greater spectrum of emotion, does beautiful music tend to be in the minor key?

Is it like the best stories that have some element of tragedy? Like the best sweets that have salt?