

Don't ever ever say it!

*Are there held ideas about life that one would never express, publicly or even privately, because they are too perverse or cynical.
If so, we could never know what they are, forever elephants in the room of life, in the mind and heart of man, unuttered and unutterable.*