

IMMANUEL KANT

1724-1804

Critique of Pure Reason

1781

“I had to deny knowledge in order to make room for faith.”

This book’s ideas and arguments subvert the entire foundation of the Enlightenment, especially knowledge and reason, and plant the seeds of postmodernism.

Oh, the ironies!
Postmodern man generally lacks faith and spends his time critiquing.

