

MOVIES

They're just moving patterns of colored light on a flat, silver surface. How can they still fire our imagination, intrigue our intelligence, or evoke such deeply felt emotion?