

In our present politicized world, many people perceive offensiveness and injustice virtually everywhere. For your own personal and psychological safety, you need to show the correct level of response. Don't ever let it be thought or said that you are guilty of...

insufficient outrage!