

A progressive politician is like an irrational child with a loaded gun.

A republican politician's timidity, acquiescence, and complicity is beneath contempt. The typical voter is laughable. If a solution to our current political and cultural hell exists, political conservatism has the best chance of finding it.