

INJURY ABSORBER

One of the downsides of athletic competition is the inevitability of injuries. Not only are athletes and teams not at their best but careers are threatened or even destroyed.

Wouldn't it be nice if each athlete could have an "injury absorber," one who could take away any injury and leave their athlete physically whole. They would have to be highly compensated of course.