

EXOLINGUISTICS

Intelligent alien civilizations would need language to construct, deploy, and use technologies. Would their languages be imagistic or symbolic? If symbolic, would there be syntactical rules similar to human alphabetical languages? Would they, for example, have the parts of speech we have. Would they have poetry to celebrate themselves and their technologies? Would they allow poetic license?