

Resurrection!

The final moments of Gustav Mahler's second symphony, the "Resurrection Symphony," is so monumentally intense that it can bring a misanthropic and cynically jaded atheist to tears.