HOLLYWOOD COURAGEOUS

The products of Hollywood production teams tend to show contempt for the traditions and practices of professing Christians. In no way do you these products ever disparage leaders or followers of Islam. Why is this?

Christians are the last to show anger and fight; they "turn the other cheek." With Muslims, on the other hand, anger and violence tend to be the first choice.

What do you call it when one harasses, threatens, or tries to intimidate another whom they know or believe will not fight back?
