

What do these four wisdoms have in common?

Anticipating an event is the event.

The destination is the journey.

You can't see the forest for the trees.

Anticipating meeting a person you admire is often a disappointment.

*Life is full of pictures,
but only one is the biggest.*